Developing a highly effective safety culture

Did you know the utilities sector has some of the highest accident rates in Minnesota? Join the MMUA safety team as we explore the causes of workplace accidents, prevention and mitigation strategies, effective emergency response techniques, and successfully implementing changes based on lessons learned.

Led by Assistant Director of Education and Outreach Cody Raveling, these interactive sessions will help prepare anyone to foster a positive safety culture and to react with confidence and clarity when the unexpected happens.

Registration is open for all members at $200. Receive a certificate of attendance for continuing education.

To learn more and register, visit the calendar page on MMUA's website at mmua.org/events/calendar.
